

THE CENTRAL RECORD

FIFTEENTH YEAR.

LANCASTER, KY., FRIDAY, JULY 8 1904.

NUMBER 15

Of Local Interest.

The Fourth passed off quietly. Several Lancaster people enjoyed the celebration of the Fourth at Stanford, Monday.

In to the Finish.

Hon. Harve Helm's friends say that he is stronger now than before the convention, that he was the strongest man then and the conditions have added to his strength. He is in the race to the end, no difference what plan of settlement the committee may adopt.

Big Ball at Crab Orchard.

The mid summer ball at Crab Orchard Springs will be given next Friday night, the 15th, and Manager Willis extends a most cordial invitation to his friends to be present. The Lexington Military Band, (which is the immortal Henry Saxton's band) will furnish music, which in itself insures a big crowd.

Services Changed.

By agreement of pastors, the union services will be conducted next Sunday night at the Presbyterian church instead of Baptist church, Bro. Tindler preaching the sermon. Bro. Pearce will preach at the Baptist church the following Sunday night. Arrangement is thus made to accommodate Bro. Ellis, who will preach at Buckeye next Sunday.

Ordered to Canada.

Mr. Ed C. Gaines, who represents the Deering branch of the International Harvester Co., left Tuesday night for Quebec, for special duties pertaining to the machine business. The fact that he was selected from a large number of representatives speaks volumes of praise for our young townsman, who is considered one of the best machine men in the field.

Hung Fire.

The above expresses the work of the Democratic convention at Shelbyville last week. More than 150 ballots were taken, each resulting as the first. After several day's effort to make a nomination, a resolution was passed ordering a primary election. The district committee will now fix the date, and each candidate says he will fight to a finish, so look out for the fur to fly.

The Union Meetings.

More interest is manifested in the union meetings this summer than in previous years, and indications point to much good being accomplished. Sunday night, the Christian church was crowded, and marked attention given the able sermon delivered by Rev. Mr. Ellis, of the Baptist church. Next Sunday night, Bro. Tindler will preach the sermon, the services being held in the Baptist church.

Our Friend Wins More Praise.

The Record's good friend, Hon. R. W. Miller, of Richmond, who by the way, is as good gubernatorial timber as can be found in the Democratic party, was highly complimented on his speech at Shelbyville convention last week. The Courier Journal says:—"Mr. Miller more than sustained his well-earned reputation as the leading young orator of Kentucky. He held the fixed attention of the convention, which seemed determined that not one word of his effort should escape their hearing, and at the close of his ten-minute speech there was a spontaneous outburst of applause. Many of those present had never heard him speak, and when he was through he was personally congratulated by scores."

A Pretty Sight.

One of the prettiest sights we have ever seen is the gold fish pond of Mr. J. C. Thompson, at his handsome residence, on Danville street. The pool is probably eight feet long, five wide and four deep. There are fifty large gold fish, which have been trained to come at the ringing of a bell to receive their food. There are also several handsome pond lilies growing in the pool, one being imported from Ireland, and which blooms out from eight to three o'clock every day. Mr. Thompson has a lovely collection of flowers, including many very rare and pretty plants. His ginseng beds are quite a curiosity, and very interesting. Mr. Thompson does all the work of raising the flowers and plants, it being his "hobby," and he is always glad to show them to his friends, many of whom call every day.

Right Sort of Official.

Danville Advocate:—In refusing to grant a license to a Wholesale Brewing concern to establish a branch house in Danville, Mayor Fisher's action meets with the commendation of all right-minded people of the community. The people of Boyle county, while sometimes troubled with illicit liquor selling, have on the whole had far less trouble from the liquor curse than nine-tenths of the communities of the State, and the Advocate pledges itself now and henceforth, as far as possible, to lend its support to men who respect and protect the prohibition laws of the county. We do not need a branch brewery here. It is one of the last things in the world the community wants, and we have profound respect for an officer who has the courage and the nerve to stand flat footed and refuse one license.

For sale, some old corn. 7-8-11 J. F. Robinson.

Make Good Showing.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found statements of the Peoples Bank, at Paint Lick, and the Bank of Bryantsville. The former has enjoyed its best year's business, while the latter makes a splendid showing. The Bank of Bryantsville is in its first year.

Here's a Good One.

Jim Allen says in his Cynthiana Democrat:—"One of the toughest stories like all other stories, comes from Ohio. It is said that a well-known farmer fed his horse, by mistake, a large quantity of poultry food thinking it was stock food, and that the mistake was not noticed until the horse had scratched up half the garden and showed signs of wanting to set."

No Dust Now.

J. A. Beazley, manager of the waterworks, is succeeding well in keeping the dust away. Every morning, about five o'clock he takes a section of the fire hose, and gives the streets a drenching, which keeps the dirt moist all day. A number of citizens pay extra to have this water thrown in front of their homes, and it is rather disgusting to hear others who pay nothing comment on how it should be done. If you can't help pay for this work, close your head.

Closing Accounts.

The Official Board of the Memorial Methodist church of this city is closing its accounts for the church year which ends in August; its annual exhibits being carefully made in all items for publication and permanent record at the coming session of the annual conference of churches meeting next month at Lexington: the record of each church member, being carefully preserved whilst the youngest and smallest of the church membership organizations, of the one hundred constituting the annual convocation of Central Kentucky, its record last year was at the top; its apportionments for current expense and gospel benevolence met by voluntary, free will offerings, per member, beyond that of any other church in this community or Central Kentucky. "By fruit ye shall know them; provoke one another to good work."

The Tobacco Crop.

The Harrodsburg Herald says, in its opinion the coming crop of tobacco will command a good price. Our judgment is based on the fact that the independent factories must have stock to run their plants, as the Continental this year, after the tobacco had left the hands of the producer, gobbled up everything in sight, leaving the independent concerns empty handed. Grant it that the Continental has sufficient stock to run without the present growing crop—which is not a fact, of course—that mammoth concern will not sit idly by and allow the independents to buy tobacco at a low figure, but will go on the market and buy, therefore the price will continue at a figure that farmers can afford to raise it. In a nutshell the situation is this. The independents must have this crop and have it early and it is not the policy of the Continental to let them have any part of it for nothing. Further, the Continental must have a goodly portion of the new crop to continue in business.

Resigns as Manager.

After many years' service as manager of the Pilgrimage Distillery, Col. Jno. W. Miller has tendered his resignation, which took effect on the first of this month. Since the Pilgrimage was bought by the trust, the work has been constantly increasing until it is now a position of the greatest responsibility and labor. Mr. Miller is conceded to be one of the best managers in the state, his work always being right up to minute and done in the most satisfactory manner. The Record of office has had much business with him, both as manager of the Pilgrimage, and as master commissioner, and we have never had the pleasure of dealing with a fairer-minded, or more reasonable gentleman. He has a contempt for a man who runs off on mouse tracks, or is constantly straining to save about a sixteenth of a cent on a job of work. He pays a living profit for work, knows good work, and spends his money at home. What more goes to make up a useful citizen?

Best of All.

The best of all will be the Crab Orchard Fair and Races July 27, 28, 29. A good band of music, plenty of shade good seats and a warm reception awaits all visitors. The best horses in the state will compete in races and show rings, and you can count on the best show of stock to be seen in the South. You will make a mistake if you miss this great show.

Important Notices.

This is to notify all indebted to me that I am needing what is owing, and must have the money at once. This is intended for all who owe me, and I trust you will call and settle.

Miss Sallie Tillet.

Having sold my grocery, I desire to sell my furniture and to do this I will begin on Saturday, July 9th, offer my entire stock at auction, and every Saturday afternoon until sold, sale will begin at 2 p.m. R. A. Stone. 7-8-11

I have sold my grocery and must close up my business at once. All persons indebted to me must settle at once, I can indulge you no longer. R. A. Stone. 7-8-11

"In Time of Peace, Prepare for War."

While our citizens are tearing their hair and worrying over who shall warm the seat in Congress, there is a matter right here at home which is of vastly more importance to the people of Lancaster, and about which our good people had better be looking. It is not generally known, but three of the City Councilmen whom the people had such a hard fight to elect last Fall, have resigned, and their places are to be filled at the approaching November election. J. A. Beazley resigned, to accept the position of manager of the waterworks, while Judge Joe S. Robinson and E. W. Morrow have handed in their resignations and retired. The Record regrets exceedingly that this fight is to be gone through with again, but it has to come so we sound the warning now that those who want good, economical government, and NO SALOONS, can buckle on their armor and be prepared for a battle. While the saloon people have kept quiet for some time, yet there is a nigger in the woodpile, and the "drys" had better pick their flints. A hint to the wise ought to be sufficient. Messrs. Alex. Beazley, Jno. M. Duncan and Jno. M. Logan have been appointed to fill out the unexpired terms but an election must be held in November, and the people should bestir themselves and see that Messrs. Beazley, Logan and Duncan, or equally as good men, make the race.

Mrs. William Wolfolk and daughters Anna Lue and Marguerite of Lexington are visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hogan and family. Messrs. Henry Milton and Julian Elliott have returned to North Middletown after a visit to their brother Dr. W. M. Elliott. Quite a number from here attended the supper at the Fork Thursday evening. The supper was a success in every particular and the ladies realized quite a little sum. Mrs. Mae Steadman has purchased from Mrs. Celia Armstrong her line of millinery. Mrs. Steadman will have a beautiful line of goods this fall and would be glad for all her friends and acquaintances to patronize her. Mr. Gabe Huffman died very suddenly at his home in the country Tuesday morning June 28th. He had not been sick and his death came as a surprise to his many friends. He had been constable here for about fifteen or twenty years. He was one of the strongest democrats in the county and his influence will certainly be missed. Mr. Huffman was nearly sixty years old but was never married. He had lived with his sister, Mrs. Chester Anderson for a number of years. The funeral was held at the Fork church Wednesday morning.

BUCKEYE.

Mrs. Herod Ray sold a bunch of shoats at 4c. Wilbert Ray sold to Chapel parties some corn at $3. per bbl. Miss Helen Miles began her school at this place last Tuesday. Dr. Amon and wife have returned from a visit to the World's Fair. Robt. Long bought a bunch of shoats from different parties in this locality at $4 per hundred. The Misses Buford, of Nicholasville, have been visiting Misses Fannie and Helen Miles, the past week. Mr. Jas. Raney, of Stone, died last Friday night, the burial taking place at Buckeye cemetery Saturday.

The decorations were very handsome and the house thronged with a brilliant company to offer congratulations. A number of letters and telegrams and a valuable collection of presents were received. Elegant refreshments were served in the dining room. Assisting about the handsome rooms were Mesdames J. Roe Young, W. S. Bowman, H. M. Grant and Mr. Charles Anderson. LOUIS LANDHAM.

Second-Class Mail Matter.

Lancaster, Ky., July 8, 1904.

More or less moralizing and philosophizing concerning the alleged lack of growth in the church is heard periodically, but a very pointed reply to such comment is shown in the growth of the Christian Endeavor Societies. The statistics of the Kentucky organization show a large increase in membership within two years and that a number of new denominations have entered its society. The Christian Endeavor association is not the church, it is true, but it is a branch of it, and its members are church members. When such an auxiliary body shows so much life and activity it certainly controverts the theory that there is a lack of life in the main organization. It is also worth while to reflect that the Christian Endeavorers are young people and that the energy and enthusiasm they show in their present society will eventually belong to the church exclusively. Church life has many ramifications, and can not be judged by the size of the Sunday morning congregations.

The St. Louis Star aptly remarks that one hundred well informed men may be asked to give a definite answer to the question as to the bone of contention between Japan and Russia and that not ten out of the number can answer it. And, the Hodgenville Herald adds, we will add that the same question may be put to each of the countries parties to the combat and they could not give a satisfactory answer without calling a cabinet meeting. The fact is that while official demands were being handed back and forth by diplomats a war shiplet loose a gun and the dance has been in progress ever since, with the other countries as spectators and the newspapers the swag-grabbers.

The Chicago board of education is thinking of requiring all girl graduates from the public schools to wear white gowns at the commencement exercises, the idea being that this would prevent a contrast between the toilet of wealthy and poor pupils. The board seems to believe that all white dresses are made of one material and after the same pattern. They have evidently gained these ideas from reading about the "simple muslin gowns" (which may have been made by Worth) worn by the heroines of fiction.

In a single year 7,000,000 cigars are consumed in the United States, to say nothing of nearly half as many cigarettes and an enormous amount of tobacco. If the cigars were all "two-fers" their cost would be a tremendous sum. To women this seems an awful waste when so many things worth while could be bought with the money, but is there a wife who can persuade her husband to come down a single cigar? Nay, nay. It is his cherished and sacred extravagance.

Theodore Roosevelt is the only president of the United States who was born in a large city, all the others having first seen the light in farm houses or in small villages. This cuts the rural element out of the Republican campaign, so far as the head of the ticket is concerned. Mr. Fairbanks' career as a country boy will have to serve for both.

The sympathy of the press of the entire state goes out to Mr. Jno. G. Pulliam, of The Harrodsburg Sayings, in the death of his mother, which occurred Friday. At time of her death, Mr. Pulliam was acting as one of the secretaries at the Democratic district convention in Shelbyville.

Mr. Willie Hearst's pose as the friend of labor does not commend itself to the Union paper makers. He has refused to place his orders for paper with union mills.

GOV. BRADLEY'S SPEECH.

So much favorable comment has been made upon the speech of our townsman, Gov. Bradley, in seconding the nomination of President Roosevelt, that we reproduce it in full. Gov. Bradley, as he always is, was a leading figure in the convention, and the applause which greeted him showed how popular the Lancaster man is, not only with his own state, but with the politicians of the Nation. Gov. Bradley said:

The Republican party has made no mistakes; therefore, it has no apologies to offer. It has broken no promises, therefore, it enters no plea of confession and avoidance. It offers no guaranty for the future save the record of its past.

It points to an enormously increased commerce, at home and abroad. To free homes given to free people. To a war waged to drive the tyrant from Cuba, and a promise faithfully kept to give to the people of the island a stable form of government. To an improved army and navy whose deeds of valor have added imperishable glory to American arms. To the erection of churches and school-houses, and the inauguration of civil government in the Philippines. To the universal prosperity now prevailing throughout the Republic. To a generous system of pensions, provided for those who fought, and the families of those who died, that the Union might be preserved. To the most gigantic rebellion of all time courageously met and completely subdued. To the spectacle of our flag waving in the red flames of war, and of our preserved and others, peace, in the firmament of freedom.

We can not stand at the base of Bunker Hill Monument, as prophesied by Toombs, and call the roll of our slaves; but we can stand on any spot of the earth and call the long roll of Republican statesmen and soldiers—the most distinguished and illustrious that the nation has produced, who rendered impossible the fulfillment of that prediction.

For nearly half a century, the record of the Republican party has been so interwoven with the country's history that each is a part of the other, and neither can be written without including the other. Indeed, during that time the Republican Party has been the country.

In diplomacy, in progress, in the arts and sciences, in prosperity and adversity, in peace and war, at home and abroad, on land and sea, the Republican Party has been true to every trust, equal to every emergency, has continually elevated and advanced the standard of American honor and glory and now proclaims to the world that in the lexicon of patriotic endeavor and achievement there is no such word as "fail."

And during all these eventful years, the Democratic party has resisted every step of advancement and progress. It has been a stupid objector, a miserable malcontent and a common scold. For two Presidential terms it administered public affairs, and during each, crippled commerce, unsettled and decreased values, paralyzed industry, closed manufactories and made it necessary for public charity to provide food for the starving unemployed. It has exchanged its time-honored principles for dangerous heresies, and betrayed the leaders, until it is without a leader and in anxious search of a platform. It has abandoned its Moses and is unable to discover a Joshua. It does not certainly know what it wants; and if it did, would not know where to find it. It does not know what it is for; and if it did, would not know how to express it. It does not know what to do; and if it did, would not know how to do it.

Men of the North, we come from the battle fields consecrated to freedom with the blood of your brave sons. We are the custodians of your patriot dead, and each year commemorate their deeds and decorate their graves with flowers. In their names, and by their memories, the disfranchised South appeals to you for justice. Shall it be said that your sons marched, and fought and died in vain? Shall it be said that a nation can exist part slave and part free? Are people free who are forced to bear the burden and yet denied the highest privilege of citizenship? If it be true that warrant may not be found in the Constitution to prevent disfranchisement, then we beg that you no longer permit the disfranchised and oppressed to be estimated for the purpose of increasing the electoral strength of their oppressors.

Though the grape is crushed, and the grain is ground, they produce neither wine nor bread for the persecuted men of the South.

Surrounded by difficulties, striving in vain to be free, they instinctively turn to the brave, true man who has said that he would not close the door of hope on a struggling race. The Southern Republicans are devoted to him and will follow him with all the affection and enthusiasm with which the "Old Guard" followed Napoleon. They have unshaken faith in his superb courage, even-handed justice and unsullied honor.

We have not forgotten how, when the war clouds hung dark in the nation's horizon, he sacrificed office, and left a happy home, and a beloved wife and children, to bare his bosom in the storm of battle. The same patriotism and courage that inspired him then, has animated him throughout his administration. When others stood appalled in the presence of the great strike, he cheerfully, and with alacrity, assumed a responsibility not officially incumbent upon him, and bravely springing into the breach, succeeded in procuring a settlement that brought tranquility to the representatives of capital, and smiles and sunshine into the faces and homes of the humble laborers.

He unhesitatingly measured swords with the giant corporation, which threatened the people with wrong and oppression, and brought it into subjection.

He knows how and when to plan, and, better still, how and when to execute. Alert of mind, he has quickly seized every opportunity. In the procurement of concessions for the Panama Canal, he accomplished more in a few hours than his predecessors accomplished in more than a hundred years. He did not attempt to unloose, he cut the Gordian knot.

His enemies say that he can not be trusted; but the people know that one who always does the right thing, at the right time and in the right way, is entitled to their implicit confidence.

His enemies say, that he is unsafe. His record proves that he is unsafe only to the lawless, the trickster, the grafter and those who deny equal protection of the law to any class of American citizens. But in the discharge of the great trusts devolved upon him, he has proven a harbor of safety.

His enemies predicted, that he would involve the Nation in war; but all his victories have been those of diplomacy and peace, and today he enjoys the respect and friendship of every foreign power.

He has not been the pliable instrument of any man, or set of men. He is the equator, not the creature of public sentiment. He is not controlled by popular clamor, but bows to the law, let the chips fall where they may. He is not a haggard, a time server or an idle dreamer. He loses no opportunity on account of timid doubt or annoying hesitation. He is not a follower, but every inch a leader. He is not an imitator, but a thoroughly original, guided alone by a clear conception of right and the genius of common sense.

He boldly and fearlessly advances; he never sounds the retreat. Imbued with never failing courage, tempered with sound and conservative judgment; brilliant as a meteor, yet steadily and certain as the sun in its course; gifted with broad and intelligent statesmanship; fixed in lofty purpose, he is the embodiment of American vigor and the most exalted type of American manhood.

He was born to fulfill a mission. That mission in part accomplished will be completed in coming years, and his name shall go ringing down the centuries with those of the immortal few "who were not born to die."

In Kentucky we have "contended against principalities and powers and the rulers of darkness." We have, in truth, fought with all manner of beasts, not at Ephesus—but at Frankfort. We are nervous ourselves for the coming conflict, and in November next hope to break the chains which partisan legislation has thrown around us and restore freedom to the State which gave birth to Abraham Lincoln and holds within its bosom the ashes of Henry Clay.

Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Ten Years of Suffering.

I wish to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mrs. Mattie Burge, of Martinsville, Va. "I suffered from chronic diarrhoea for ten years and during that time tried various medicines without obtaining any permanent relief. Last summer one of my children was taken with cholera morbus, and I procured a bottle of this remedy. Only two doses were required to give her entire relief. I then decided to try the medicine myself, and did not use all of one bottle before I was well and I have never since been troubled with that complaint. One cannot say too much in favor of that wonderful medicine." This remedy is for sale by Frisbie's Drug Store. 1m Never judge a man's reputation for truthfulness by what he says when in love.

Safeguard the Children.

Notwithstanding all that is done by boards of health and charitably inclined persons, the death rate among small children is very high during the hot weather of the summer months in the large cities. There is not probably one case of bowel complaint in a hundred, however, that could not be cured by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by Frisbie's Drug Store. 1m

First-Class Rooms at St. Louis.

The question of rooms at St. Louis has been giving prospective visitors much concern, but The Record can direct you to a most delightful place. We refer to No. 4350 Maryland Ave., a large boarding house run by Mrs. W. C. Lindsay, and in which Mr. Geo. L. Garrett, traveling passenger agent for the Henderson Route, is interested. It is situated on the principal street car line running to main entrance of Fair grounds and also convenient to business portion of the city. There are three boarding houses and two leading cafes within a stone's throw, where first class meals can be obtained. The best way to see the Fair is to engage rooms, then take meals wherever you happen to be. This saves time and money. Write Geo. L. Garrett, T. P. A. was Born and Reared in Lexington.
The Kentucky Medical Journal, in its issue for June, has the following: "Kentucky, Kentucky medicine and Kentucky doctors have been again significantly honored by the profession of the United States in the person of Dr. Lewis S. McMurtry who was elected President of the American Medical Association at the recent meeting in Atlantic City. This is the most substantial honor which can come to a member of the medical profession, and is exactly comparable in its own way to the honor of being President of the whole United States. Those who know Dr. McMurtry, his good work and solid scientific ideals and attainments, as well as his notable services to the American Association throughout a period of many years, will appreciate the appropriateness of the selection. On the other hand, Kentucky may rest assured that they will be represented by a man who will do honor to them and the Association, both as a leader and director of scientific thought and effort during the coming year, and as a finished and tactful presiding officer at its close. Dr. McMurtry's election was the more notable and honorable in that he defeated for the office one of the most distinguished and popular members of the American Medical Association, a man with a reputation which extends far beyond the confines of his own continent, who is admired by all for his scientific achievements and loved by his friends as the best of modest gentlemen, Dr. William J. May, of Rochester, Minn."

Reunion of Morgan's Men.

Carlisle Mercury:—At a meeting of the Executive Committee at Lexington, on the 23rd inst., it was decided to hold the annual reunion of Morgan's Men, at Parks' Hill, Nicholas county, on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, August 17, 18 and 19th. H. M. Taylor and G. R. Keller were appointed committee on arrangements. The rates during the meeting will be $1.25 per day, and rate of one and one-third fare for the round trip will be given by the railroad.

(We desire to add that arrangements will be made for the reunion at Parks' Hill that will excel any reunion ever held in Kentucky. Those in attendance last year were profuse in their expressions of approval of Parks' Hill as an ideal place for the reunion.—Ed. Mercury.)
